

For nature lovers, the department of Valle del Cauca offers Los Farallones Natural Park, a 150,000-hectare reserve of forests, endemic fauna (marsupials, monkeys, bears, eagles, and more than 70 more species of birds), and springs. Its altitude ranges from 200 to 4,100 m above sea level.