

The Cañaveral and Arrecifes areas are amazingly beautiful. Luxury lodgings built in the Kogi Indian style are available.

Mamancana is a 600-hectare reserve located on the road that goes from Santa Marta to the Simón Bolívar Airport.

It is a tropical dry forest whose conservation was declared a priority.

Mamancana has become a favorite place for lovers of ecotourism and outdoor activities. Its infrastructure allows canyoning, ala delta, paragliding, rock climbing, rappelling, mountain biking, downhill horseback riding, bird watching, and tours on all-terrain vehicles.

There is also a good restaurant, as well as spaces for meetings.
