

Colombia is an incredibly diverse and charming country where visitors and tourists run the risk that they may want to stay once they get to know the friendliness of the people, the magic of the landscapes, the aroma and taste of its excellent coffee, the beauty of its emeralds, and the cultures that have fascinated the world for centuries.

Its extraordinary location on the northwestern tip of South America and at the center of the American continent facilitates bringing together visitors coming from places as diverse as the Americas, Asia, and Europe.

Colombia's golf courses are regarded among the best in Latin America.

Colombia's special ambiance fosters incredible golfing experiences. Its tropical climate and the bimodal season regime across most of the country make it possible to enjoy constant luminosity and an equal number of daytime and nighttime hours 365 days a year.

Colombia's various regions are a perfect combination of landscapes, climates, and vegetation for all who enjoy playing golf in a welcoming, modern, and magical atmosphere every month of the year.

{rokbox title=|Colombia offers visitors over 50 challenging and entertaining golf courses.}|images/stories/turistainternacional/Quehacer/deporteyaventura/golf/santander-uno-vf.jpg{/rokbox}

Colombia offers visitors over 50 challenging and entertaining golf courses.

As an international golf destination, Colombia provides its visitors with more than 50 challenging and amusing courses that are considered among the best in Latin America. The courses were created in magical, exotic surroundings and designed by renowned figures such as Robert Trent Jones, Gary Player, Mark Mahannah, and Jack Nicklaus.

The best Bentgrass and Kikuyo grasses were used for these internationally noted greens, fairways, and roughs.

No doubt, the quality of the courses and the charm of their landscapes promise memorable experiences to tourists.